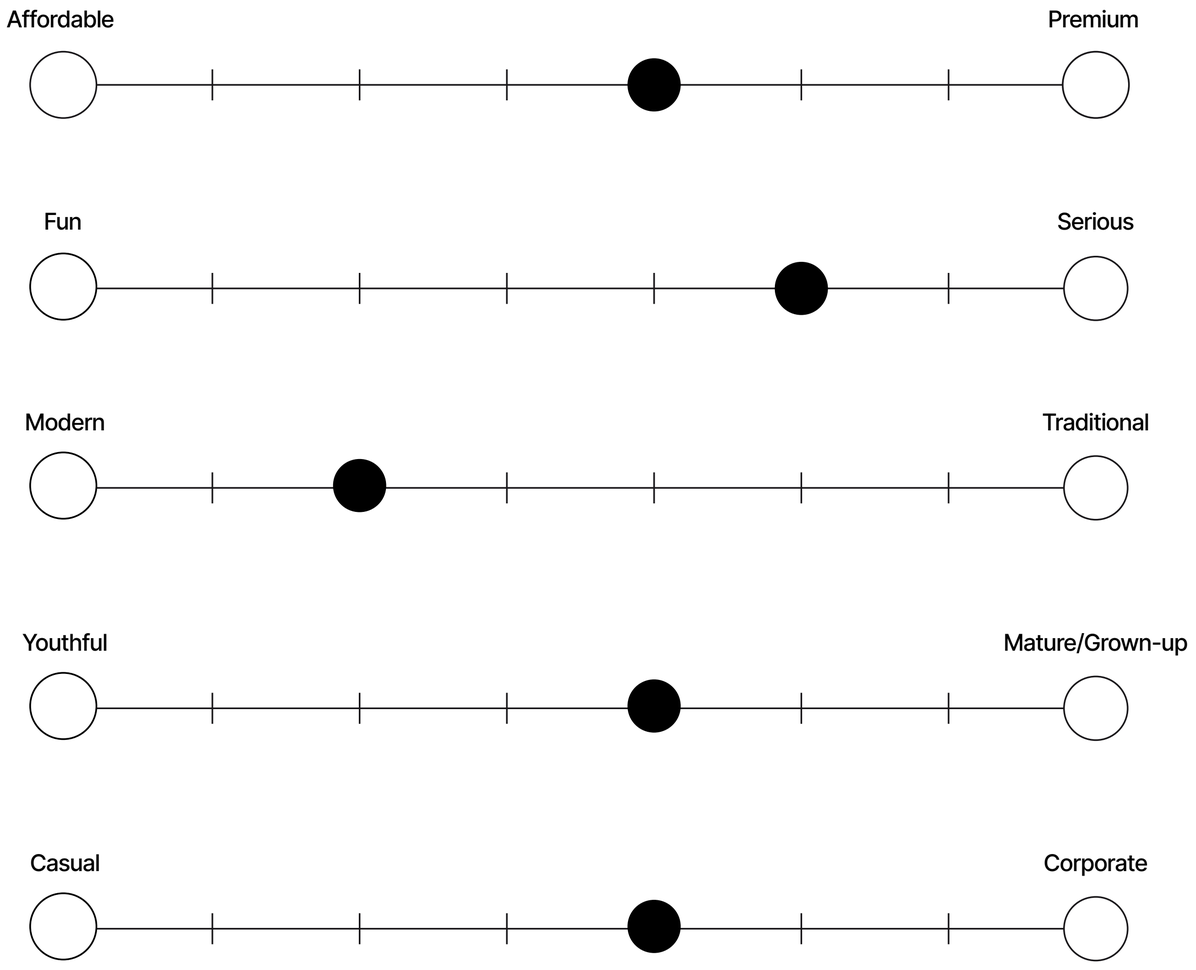
Brand Personality

MyDeer is a fire-focused brand with a calm, confident tone and a clear emphasis on reliability. We communicate in a modern, straightforward way - without exaggeration and without unnecessary “lifestyle” promises.

Quality and consistency are the baseline: customers should know exactly what to expect every time. The look and language feel premium, but remain accessible and practical - built for everyday use at home and outdoors.



Color Direction

The MyDeer palette is built on strong contrast and simplicity. Black and neutral tones convey solidity, order, and trust, while the warm accent references fire and the brand's energy.

The colors are designed to stay clear and consistent across packaging, digital, and sales materials - with no unnecessary decoration.

Logotype

MyDeer is a brand built around fire - from fuel and firelighting to a mindful fire experience at home and outdoors. This logomark serves as the brand's primary identifier, combining the deer symbol with a warm, fire-inspired palette and the Born for Fire claim to clearly express MyDeer's character and future direction.

Wordmark & Claim

The wordmark is MyDeer's primary everyday logo - used in place of the full illustrative mark, which due to its detailed character may not perform well at small sizes or in fast, practical applications.

The wordmark has a fixed structure: star + MY DEER + star, and comes in two versions: with the Born for Fire claim (when space allows and we want to reinforce the message) and without the claim (when maximum clarity and simplicity are the priority).

Emblem

The emblem is a simplified, closed version of the MyDeer mark - designed for technical and production applications. Thanks to its compact form and strong outline, it performs well wherever durability and legibility matter: metal plates, embossing, engraving, laser marking, or outdoor components. The emblem is available in two versions - without the claim and with the “Born for Fire” claim - selected depending on the available space and the production method.

Variants # 1

Due to the structure and legibility requirements of the logotype, we use several variants depending on the background and usage context. The primary version is full color, while grayscale and black-and-white versions are used whenever higher contrast or production constraints require a simplified mark. This approach keeps the logo consistent and recognizable across different touchpoints - in print, digital, and on-product applications.

Variants # 2

Due to the structure and legibility requirements of the logotype, we use several variants depending on the background and usage context. The primary version is full color, while grayscale and black-and-white versions are used whenever higher contrast or production constraints require a simplified mark.
